“As I have grown as a dressage rider, I have owned and ridden in four types of saddles. Finally I have found one that gives me comfort, support and yet lets me feel like there is hardly anything between my seat and my horse. I have seen physical evidence how much the Equipe saddles have improved my horse’s movement.

Landers Dressage is passionate about sharing this saddle with our Dressage Community.” - Sara McConnell

TESTIMONIAL FROM Dr. Bek Jarzombek, DC

Proper fitting tack is one of the most important things you can do for you and your horse. The saddle is where the horse and rider biomechanics hold hands. It is incredibly vital this exchange is taking place with functional accuracy. The saddle is meant to enhance the movement taking place, not impede it! An ill-fitting saddle can present in various ways with symptoms taking place quickly or taking a longer timeframe to appear. This can show up as simple as a horse not being able to correctly interpret the rider's aids or a horse's health and happiness declining. On the flip side, a correctly fitting saddle for horse and rider can be a dream come true! It's a win-win. The rider avoids frustration by having their leg in the proper position, thus the horse has a valid chance to correctly hear what you have to say. Naturally, the results will be better. Not to mention you are adding to the health, happiness, and longevity of your partnership. During my first visit to Landers Dressage I began to notice a spinal health trend in each of their horses. This became noticeable present in female, male, young, aged, advanced level, and beginner level horses. Each horse I worked on did not have pain, inflammation, muscle spasms or soft tissue irritation where the saddle sits. This is a big deal! The horse may have had structural areas locked up, requiring chiropractic treatment, but they were not back sore. There is a difference. In addition, a horse will adjust easier and hold their chiropractic adjustment much longer with a proper fitting saddle.

High performance horses are athletes and require proper maintenance to continue working at a high level, to ensure soundness, and to progress in skill. Sara and Linda explained the Equipe saddles they are using and I was immediately impressed. I'm not partial to a brand. I'm partial to results. And the results with Equipe were very evident.

MEET Jackie Gladu

Jackie is a Licensed Therapeutic Massage Therapist in both Colorado and Florida and has been working on people and horses for over 20 years.

Being a rider herself gives her the advantage of understanding the dialogue between the horse and rider and being a Massage Therapist gives her the advantage of understanding the bio-mechanical connection between them as well.

Jackie has been fitting saddles for over 8 years and has been working as a dedicated Independent Saddle Fitter for Salleria Equipe for over 5 years.

Come learn why Equipe saddles are so different from every other saddle out there. Learn about the different tree materials and why we believe our memory foam is far superior to wool flocked saddles.

Schedule an appointment with Sara or Linda with Landers Dressage and come feel what it's like to ride in the saddle that Charlotte Dujardin, Kasey Perry-Glass, Ben Maher and Danielle Goldstein choose for their very own.
